Grayling High Inspected For Fire Hazards

Recently the Grayling school board requested that the school building be inspected by the state fire marshal. Following is a letter received by board president Jerome Kessler with the recommendations for improvement. Items 1, 2, 3, 8, 10 and 12 have already been done with the remainder planned for completion as soon as possible.

April 1, 1959
Mr. Jerome Kessler,
School Board President
Grayling, Michigan
Dear Sir:

Recently an officer of this department made an inspection of the Grayling High School at Grayling. It would be our recommendation that you correct the following fire hazards for the safety of the occupants of this building.

1. Remove the 275 gallon fuel oil tank from the boiler room to the outside of the building.
2. Relocate the liquefied petroleum gas tanks to the south end of the boiler room and these tanks are to be located on a solid base and secured.

3. Provide an approved self-closing device on the boiler room door.

4. Provide an approved one hour rated room with metal shelves for the storage of paints, thinner, etc.

5. Provide an approved one hour rated door and frame for room number four (boiler room).

6. Remove all combustible material from under the stairs in the entire building also all the wood partitions.

7. Provide an approved break-glass fire alarm system, self-supervised, stations located so travel is not more than 75 feet to reach a station and at least one sounding device per each floor, also station and sounding device in the boiler room.

8. Provide at least one 2 1/2 gallon water type fire extinguisher on each floor cabinet on each floor.

9. Secure and provide a solid base for the liquefied petroleum gas tanks which are used for the kitchen, also a shut-off in the building.

10. Provide an approved 5 lb. CO-2 fire extinguisher for the chemistry lab replacing the carbon tetrachloride extinguisher.

11. Any additional shelving in the chemistry storage room shall be of metal.

12. Discontinue using the electric arc welder in room eight (old shower room).

13. Provide an approved 2 1/2 gallon water type fire extinguisher for the shop room.

14. Provide an approved secondary means of egress from the assembly room. This egress to be four feet wide and at floor level, door to swing in direction of egress and equipped with panic hardware and lead to a platform with standard steps and risers leading to grade and protected with handrails.

15. Provide approved one hour rated doors and frames with self-closing device on all doors leading to the corridors from the shop and chemistry lab rooms.

16. Enclose all open stairways at each floor level with material of equal or greater than present partition construction, doors shall be hung to swing in the direction of egress with self-closing device.

17. It is recommended that the settling of the floor in the gym be inspected by a competent engineer to determine the structural stability and cause of settling.

These directives and comments are basic fire safety measures and will not be inconsistent with further requirements possible in the near future should new legislation or additional safety standards be developed.

Very truly yours,
Glenroy M. Walker, Chief
Fire-Marshal Division

Governor Williams Posing Biggest Political Question of State's History

GOV. WILLIAMS is erecting the biggest political question mark in Michigan history.

He is swinging into the shank of his sixth consecutive term with more partisan enemies than at any time since he first became chief executive in 1949.

Republicans are making capital of the near bankrupt state of the treasury and are continuing their drumfire over his link to labor leaders.

No one expects Williams to try for a seventh term as governor in his bid for the presidency, a hot and cold prediction for years, is almost a certainty.

Williams himself is silent on the subject except for general statements about everybody wanting to be president.

On a world tour, Mrs. Williams told reporters in Tokyo her husband "has had enough" and wouldn't try for governor again. Williams feigned surprise.

Now comes the report that the state's top Democratic leaders are taking deep soundings in the national political earth to see what Williams' prospects will be in 1960.

So far, the national polls have barely mentioned Williams.

National publicity about Michigan's near bankruptcy after 10 years with Williams at the helm has damaged his chances, a point that he is trying to correct in out-of-state speeches.

One writer pointed out the irony.

Williams tells national audience-

John Schofield and Jack Smith returned with a good catch of smelt from Au Gres Sunday before last.

Li and Mrs. John Jackson and son John, Jr. arrived Sunday from Selkridge Field to visit his parents, the Bert Swarthouts, for three days, and to enjoy some trout fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Funck entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hobbs of Jackson, and brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whaley and children of Lansing, over the weekend.

Monday, Mrs. Robert Funck and daughter Kitty Lee, and Mrs. Edwin Funck and son David, spent the day in Cadillac on business.

President Charles Anspach, of Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant, and Vice-President Woodward Smith and Norval Bovee, spent Thursday at Mr. Smith's AuSable river home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Ray Snider arrived Thursday noon to open the canoe drive for the summer. They had spent the winter at Sebring, Fla., and enroute here stopped to visit their daughter and family the Pierces at Detroit, and son and family, the Bud Sniders, at Lansing.

A surprise party for Miss Sandra SanCartier was given by Spc/4 Bill Martin at his home Wednesday, April 22, celebrating Sandra's 21st birthday. The guests were mostly former classmates. "Suzie" received some very nice gifts.

Miss Eunice Schreiber of Muskegon Heights planned to visit her father, Hugo Schreiber, last weekend; also other relatives.

Mrs. Harold Stark of Mio visited her parents, the A. P. Feldhausers, last week Wednesday, also attending the L.N.L. past presidents' dinner at the home of her aunt and uncle, the Rudolph Feldhausers, that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William MacLeod and Mrs. Laura McLeod visited the former's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodbury, at West Branch, Sunday before last.

Mrs. Elva Barrie returned to her home in East Jordan, accompanying her daughter, Mrs. A. L. Roberts, about two weeks ago, after spending the winter months at the Roberts home.

er that Michigan is economically healthy, that it is only a matter of time before the state regains its position lost temporarily during the "national recession."

Michigan audiences hear the other side of the coin: That only alert economy by the administration is preventing bankruptcy in the face of a stubborn Republican legislature which refuses to pass an adequate tax program.

Reports indicate that Democratic strategists are preparing to launch Williams' 1960 bid in one or two presidential preference primaries, including Wisconsin.

They are surveying the strengths and weaknesses of his potential rivals, including Senator John Kennedy, of Massachusetts.

Williams is accepting speaking invitations around the country to explain his position on various national and international subjects. These trips make frequent targets for GOP criticism, but the Governor ignores the remarks.

ECONOMY IS THE ORDER of the day in state government, now more than ever. James W. Miller, the state controller, has ordered all trips out of the state screened, several publications suspended or modified and all expenditures reduced.

Two high officials attended meetings in New York and paid their own expenses.

A controversial highway department magazine for employees, "The Hy-Lighter" was suspended. Others have been using a less expensive printing process recently.

SENATOR HART has been receiving praise from even his critics for disclosing details of his office payroll in Washington.

House of Representative members were openly attacked for placing their relatives on payrolls. None from Michigan was involved.

When the Senate refused to make the same disclosures about all members, Hart voluntarily released a list of his employees and their salaries.

NOTES: An association of optometrists has suggested that highways should be tinted green and the centerlines painted yellow to provide less strain on the eyes of drivers.

Michelson Memorial Church News

On the last Sunday of the pastor's absence, the morning worship service at Michelson Memorial was conducted by a Wesley Foundation Deputation team from Central Michigan College of Education at Mount Pleasant, under the leadership of Roger Freeman. He was assisted by Peg Stearns, Earl Bowland, Bob Smith and Mrs. Wertz.

The message, "Our Foreign Church," was brought by Mrs. Wertz, last year's Manistee European University, who had first hand information about the Methodist work in several European areas. During the service a dear from Rev. Puffer was read, describing some of his experiences in Hawaii. Mr. Puffer is expected to return to the pulpit next Sunday and report on his mission in person.

The Children's Division of the church school will present the annual Children's Day program in the church auditorium next Sunday morning. All children are expected to report at the regular time for roll call, and will greet their parents and friends in the auditorium at 10:00 a.m. All members and friends of the church are cordially invited to attend this service.

Other people up trying their luck were Ralph Johnson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Douglas, Ron Figlio and family, Nick Douglas and his cousin.

Our weekend guests were Lu Drown from Ohio and Mary Ann Decker from Flint.

Other folks at the cabins were Mrs. Harry Gemolas and her daughter Betty from Detroit, one of the contestants for the Trout Queen at Kalkaska Trout Festival. Mr. and Mrs. Art Hutchings from Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Craig and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thompson from Flint and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Rouse from Mason, Chuck Fox and his brother and Mr. Sprague, all from Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Worsop are staying at the Joe Newman's Motel.

Shirley Ann Groves, who stayed at Camp Arrowhead for the week end caught the big Rainbow that won first prize at the Festival. It measured 28 inches and was caught out of the Manistee river.

Hugh Brower and Fred Merkel were at their cabin on Bear Lake. They are from Grand Rapids. The Paul Blicks from Cadillac, Glen Slaughter and Ron Parli from Lansing and last but not least the first to get here and the last to go was "Wild Bill" from Ortonville. There are some I have missed.

The only cabin on Cranberry has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Failing from Vicksburg. They intend to do quite a bit of remodeling.

The Bear Lake Grocery and Leece's Trading Post are both open again.

Letters To The Editor

April 27, 1959

Dear Editor:

We, the Grayling Community Improvement Association, wish to publicly thank and compliment Mr. Jack Millikin for the wonderful improvement he has made in his recently acquiring property at the corner of Lake and Erie streets and adjacent thereto.

We sincerely hope this will be an incentive to many other property owners who have old, dilapidated, useless buildings and junk piles on their property to eliminate same.

If everyone would make an honest and concentrated effort in the next thirty days to eliminate these existing conditions, there would be such a noticeable improvement in our city that our summer tourists and visitors would know that Grayling is really going "all out" to beautify our community.

HOME AGENTS' NOTES

"Consumers Marketing Information Cooperating with County Extension Service"

"You can expect more marbling in a higher grade of beef." Does that mean anything to you? Maybe not, but it does tell how to judge the quality of beef.

What is marbling and what does it do? Marbling is the name given to the distribution of fat in a beef cut. You see it as little flecks of creamy white fat through the lean red meat. This marbling of fat gives the beef tenderness, juiciness and flavor.

How does marbling show quality? Well... you can see that if the fat does give tenderness, juiciness and flavor... the better the marbling, the better the beef. However, for good marbling, the fat must be all through the meat, not just here and there in clumps and "blobs".

What does marbling have to do with grade? U. S. grades are your short cut to knowing quality.
If you know that your grocery store sells U. S. grade Choice beef, then you know that there is only one higher grade of beef... and that is Prime. You also know that U. S. grade Choice beef is just about the best you can buy.

You expect the cuts of U. S.
Choice grade beef to have good fat marbling.

If your grocery store sells U. S. grade Good beef, you know it is just one grade lower than Choice
... You don't expect the beef cuts to be quite so well marbled.

as the cuts from U. S. grade Choice. Cuts from U. S. grade
Good beef will not be quite so tender, juicy and flavorful as the cuts from U. S. Grade Choice or Prime.

So you can use the U. S. grades of beef as your short cut to quality. But even if you don't know

Gen. Geo. Moran Retires Today

Major General George C. Moran, The Adjutant General of Michigan, will retire Thursday, April 30, after a military career spanning more than 40 years.

His retirement will end 11 years of service as the chief administrative officer of the state's military establishment.

During his tenure as The Adjutant General of Michigan, the strength of the Michigan Guard rose from 5,400 officers and men to a peak of more than 14,000. More recently he directed the changeover of the Michigan Army National Guard from the triangular to the pentomic concept of organization.

General Moran began his long military career by enlisting in the first Michigan Ambulance Company of the Michigan National Guard in 1917. Called into active military service with the Guard that same year, he served 182 days in actual combat with the ambulance unit as part of the famed 42nd Rainbow Division.

In July 1922 he renewed his interest in the Michigan National Guard by helping to organize the 107th Medical Regiment in Detroit. He accepted an appointment as Captain and was assigned as adjutant and commanding officer of the Headquarters Detachment, 107th Medical Regiment.

When mobilization for World War II began in September 1940, he was called to duty in the Office of The Adjutant General of Michigan where he was assigned as Assistant Adjutant General and Executive Officer. He was promoted to Major that same month.

Inducted into federal service two months later, he was assigned to the staff of the State Director of Selective Service for Michigan.

He also continued on duty in the Office of The Adjutant General of Michigan, assisting in the induction of Michigan National Guard troops into federal service.

After a period of service in charge of the Detroit Branch of the Michigan Selective Service, he returned to Lansing in September 1941 where he served as chief of personnel and later as executive officer, Deputy State Director, and Acting State Director. He was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel in October 1942 and to Colonel in January 1947.

Upon leaving active military service in February 1947, he returned to duty in the Office of The Adjutant General of Michigan where he was assigned as Assistant Adjutant General and Executive Officer. He was appointed Colonel in the Michigan National Guard in April 1947.

Upon the retirement of Brigadier General LeRoy Pearson in December 1947, General Moran was named by the Governor as Acting The Adjutant General of Michigan. On June 8, 1948 he was appointed The Adjutant General of Michigan with the rank of Brigadier General. He was promoted to the rank of Major General on April 20, 1953.

His decorations and awards include the Victory Medal with five battle stars, and Army of Occupation ribbon for World War I; and the Army Commendation American Defense, American Theatre, and Victory ribbons for World War II.

If you. When you hear Don Arlie, Tommy, Nels, Len and Chris sing those old tunes you're going to stomp your feet and whistle for more. And then you'll be lulled into peace and contentment by the haunting melodies of Hawaii. I've played as only Harry Crumrel and George Morrison can play them. You'll listen to the swish of Hawaiian skirts and the rhythmic beat of the hula. You'll go back in memory to the roarin' twenties when those gum-chewing girls did the Charleston. Those cats really dig it. And just when they're really good, Bob, do you know what they do? They stop. They stop. I guess I won't be able to finish this letter until next week. Bob. That was Agnes Richardson, our ticket chairman, telling me the tickets were going like hot cakes and that anyone wanting them had better contact the ticket sellers real soon or they might have to stand. I have to meet Mary now anyway and go out and look for a swimming pool for well never mind, it's a long story and I'll tell you next week.
